Core Values

There are three core values that help guide the Women of Today in the actions of our organization. We believe that by following these value systems, we will be able to maintain our mission of helping both our members and the community to prosper. They are Service, Growth, and Fellowship.

Growth

Growth refers to developing and fostering skills and talents related to becoming successful individuals, such as interacting with various types of people and becoming capable leaders. There are numerous opportunities to develop needed skills and talents, from committee work to working as an officer within our local, state, or national organizations.

Service

The Women of Today strive to contribute to our society by raising funds for worthy causes and providing services and education for the benefit of the members of our community.

Fellowship

Membership in Women of Today provides opportunities to develop friendships with people who share similar interests. It is a great way to make friends in your community – and you can also make friends across the state and the nation! Every chapter holds a variety of social activities for members to get together and have fun!

Who We Are

The Monticello Chapter of Women of Today is a local chapter of the state and national organizations: Minnesota Women of Today and United States Women of Today. We are a non-profit organization dedicated to community service, personal growth, and leadership training opportunities for women 18 years and older. We strive to improve the lives of ourselves and others within the community through our various projects. We also love socializing and strengthening bonds of friendship with other women. Please know that you are welcome to our group!
